

From the Portland Chinese Community

The following Chinese entities support the Old Town Chinatown Community Association's (OTCTCA) opposition to the siting of a permanent 200 bed low-barrier homeless shelter at N.W. Third and Hoyt Street.

This shelter facility does not address the Chinese community or OTCTCA needs. Quite the contrary it puts people in the Old Town community and Chinese businesses at additional risk. We have recently experienced loss of ethnic businesses in Chinatown because of potential harm to them. Chinese business owners are willing to testify to the risk of running businesses in Chinatown.

The city's words of "No Net Gain" in homeless shelters was a promise made both to the OTCTCA and to the Chinese businesses and property owners in the district. To the Chinese community, this plan is a basic issue of trust and confidence in the promises of our officials.
